The Cover: The Cole County Courthouse, located in Jefferson City, Missouri was constructed in 1896 using some of the original stone from the previous courthouse. The building was almost destroyed by fire in March of 1918 leaving only the walls standing. The interior of the building was rebuilt with changes made to the location of the courtrooms.

The courthouse is an example of the Richardsonian Romanesque Revival style which was popular towards the turn of the century. The Cole County Courthouse is one of 12 courthouses of this type in Missouri.

MISSOURI JUDICIAL REPORT
FISCAL YEAR 1983

(For the period covering July 1, 1982 through June 30, 1983)

PREPARED BY:
OFFICE OF STATE COURTS ADMINISTRATOR
1105 REAR SOUTHWEST BOULEVARD
JEFFERSON CITY, MISSOURI 65101

Supreme Court of Missouri

ALBERT L. RENDLEN
CHIEF JUSTICE

IN CHAMBERS

TO HIS EXCELLENCY, THE GOVERNOR, THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY AND MEMBERS OF THE JUDICIARY:

On behalf of the Judiciary of the State of Missouri, I am pleased to transmit the Missouri Judicial Report for Fiscal Year 1983. This report documents the operations and caseload activity of the Missouri State Court System from July 1, 1982 through June 30, 1983.

The information provided herein is essential to determine needs and to plan improvements in Missouri's Justice System. As the statistics indicate, the judiciary continues to experience increased caseloads. While ensuring that our courts are furnished with proper resources to meet the challenges of the increase in workload, we must continually seek innovative methods by which persons may obtain swift and fair resolutions to their disputes. Ultimately cases are reported statistically but we are ever mindful that each case involves people and their needs. Missouri's judges are turning more each day to computers for assistance in the day to day operations of the courts. Automated systems for child support, accounting, court dockets and jury selections to name a few, have greatly assisted judicial personnel to maintain a high quality of service to our citizens.

This report is the result of the collaborative efforts of many people. Judges and clerks across the state at all levels have provided the information necessary to produce the report. Missouri will continue its commitment to a quality information system enabling all of us to make sound decisions for the improvement of the judiciary.

Respectfully submitted,

A. L. Rendlen

Albert L. Rendlen
Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and Presiding Officer of the Judicial Conference of Missouri

FOREWORD

About this report . . .

In accordance with RSMo 476.350 and Supreme Court Rule 82.03 this report was prepared to document the activities of the Missouri Judiciary and to provide a statistical summary of the court system for Fiscal Year 1983.

The Missouri Judicial Report consists of four sections this year. The Year in Review details major activities and accomplishments of the judiciary and provides information on expenditures and major legislation affecting the courts. The Statistical Summary highlights caseload activity and, where possible, provides analyses and discusses trends in the filings, dispositions and pending caseload. The Detailed Statistics section includes detailed tables for the Supreme Court, Court of Appeals and for each division of the Circuit Court. The final section, the Appendices, includes information on the staff, organization and functions of Missouri's Court System.

Substantial progress was made during Fiscal Year 1983 to ensure that the statistics in this report are accurate and produced in a timely manner. The automated Appellate Record Keeping System became fully operational during the year for Missouri's Supreme Court and the Eastern and Southern District Court of Appeals. At the circuit level, regional seminars on caseload reporting were held for clerks who report through the Statewide Judicial Information System.

The reporting of caseload statistics is an arduous task. The circuit clerks, division clerks, clerks of the Court of Appeals and the Clerk of the Supreme Court deserve much credit for this year's report which provides more information and was produced on a timely basis.

YEAR IN REVIEW

YEAR IN REVIEW

Changes in Courts: The Honorable Albert L. Rendlen assumed the position of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court on January 1, 1983, with his term to extend through June 30, 1985. Judge Rendlen succeeded The Honorable Robert T. Donnelly who resigned as Chief Justice effective December 31, 1982. Judge Donnelly continues to serve on the state's highest court. Judge Rendlen was appointed to the Eastern District Court of Appeals in 1974 where he served until 1977 when he was appointed to the Supreme Court.

In Judge Rendlen's first State of the Judiciary address to a joint session of the Missouri General Assembly, the Chief Justice emphasized the need to adequately fund the state public defender system and the need for Missouri to solve the problem of prison overcrowding , which he said has reached a stage where it "threatens the safety of our citizens".

Governor Christopher Bond appointed three new Supreme Court judges to fill the vacancies created when Judge Robert Seiler and Judge J.P. Morgan retired and Judge John Bardgett resigned to return to private practice. The three new judges appointed to the Court are: Judge William H. Billings, Judge George F. Gunn, Jr., and Judge Charles B. Blackmar. Prior to their appointments, Judge Billings served on the Southern District Court of Appeals; Judge Gunn served on the Eastern District Court of Appeals; and Judge Blackmar held a law professorship at St. Louis University School of Law. Under state law the governor fills each vacancy on the bench from a panel of three qualified candidates selected by the nonpartisan Appellate Judicial Commission.

Three new judges were also appointed to the Missouri Court of Appeals. Judge Carl Gaertner and Judge Kent Karohl were appointed to the Eastern District Court of Appeals. Judge John Crow was appointed to the Southern District Court of Appeals.

As a result of the November 1982 general election there were a large number of new judges and circuit clerks. Eighteen new circuit judges and 25 new associate circuit judges began work at the beginning of Calendar Year 1983. There were a total of 35 new circuit clerks elected which represents 30 percent of the circuit clerks statewide.

A new circuit judgeship was added to the 43rd Circuit on January 1, 1983. The new position, filled by Judge Melvin Griffin, brings the total number of circuit judges in the state to 133.

Legislative News: Several important pieces of legislation were passed by the 82nd General Assembly that will have a substantial effect upon Missouri's judiciary. Senate Bill 44 & 45 restructures many of the statutes dealing with guardianships. A provision of the new law creates categories of limited guardianship for individuals who have varying degrees of disability or incapacity. The act outlines the process for choosing a guardian; allows parents to delegate custody of minors for up to three months; and sets out procedures for admission to the mental health and mental retardation facilities. In addition, the bill outlines the powers and duties of the guardian and introduces new terminology and definitions relating to guardianships.

Senate Bill 94 authorizes a court to award joint custody of children in dissolution proceedings. The court may award joint custody, custody to either parent, or if both parents are unfit or unable, and if it is in the best interest of the child, custody may be awarded to a third party. Grandparents are given the right to intervene in dissolutions on the issue of visitation rights.

House Bill 117 makes many revisions in the statutes dealing with trusts. The new law sets out standards for administering a trust, details probate clerks' duties, and makes provisions for handling unclaimed property. Also included are provisions to increase circuit court jurisdiction over trusts; to allow the payment of life insurance benefits to a trust; and to allow a trust for the care of pet animals or specific noncharitable purposes.

Procedures for administering estates were revised as a result of House Bill 369. The bill provides that a creditor file a claim on an estate within six months from the first notice. The bill also outlines duties and responsibilities of the independent personal representatives of an estate.

House Bill 279 allows the state the right to appeal any order or judgment that results in the quashing of an arrest warrant, suppression of evidence, or suppression of a confession. In addition, the prosecutor or circuit attorney may appeal criminal cases where the result of the appeal would not result in double jeopardy for the defendant. The Supreme Court is to promulgate appropriate rules to govern such appeals.

Senate Bill 276 revises a variety of provisions relating to jury instruction, homicides, assaults and the intoxicated and drugged condition defense. The act provides new categories for homicide; includes voluntary manslaughter as a "dangerous felony"; provides for the exchange of information between the prosecutor and the defense in any trial of murder in the first degree where the death penalty has not been waived; and changes assault in the second degree from a class D felony to a class C felony. In addition, specific circumstances are established which may justify imposition of the death penalty. The act becomes effective July 1, 1984.

Senate Bill 24 deals with the protection of witnesses in criminal trials. The act specifies that the Director of the Department of Public Safety on his own initiative or by request of the Attorney General, a prosecuting attorney, or law enforcement agency, provide security of witnesses and their immediate families. The act includes the conditions which qualify a person for protection. Also included in the bill are provisions for using video taped depositions of an essential witness in a prosecution.

House Bill 81 expands the powers of a county sheriff to enter into an agreement with a city, town, or village to enforce the local ordinances in the same manner as the local police. The bill also authorizes the creation of a retirement system for sheriffs except those in the City of St. Louis and St. Louis and Jackson Counties. The system will be financed by charging an additional $3.00 filing fee for civil cases and $2.00 for criminal cases.

Senate Bill 318 & 135 grants the Department of Revenue the authority to suspend the license of persons driving a motor vehicle with a blood alcohol concentration of thirteen-hundredths of one percent or more. The determination is final unless a hearing is requested. Any person aggrieved by the decision of the hearing may file a petition for trial de novo in the circuit court. The bill also establishes a minimum jail sentence or mandatory service to the community for prior offenders.

Under House Bill 494 the State Board of Probation and Parole no longer is required to supervise the probation and parole of persons convicted of a class B or C misdemeanor. The Board may, at its discretion, accept such persons for supervision.

Senate Bill 275 creates the State Legal Defense Fund to pay final judgments on claims against the State of Missouri or any state agency including officers or employees of the State. The claim must be based upon conduct arising out of and performed in connection with official duties on behalf of the State.

In the November 1982 general election the voters approved House Joint Resolution 57 to remove from the Supreme Court the sole jurisdiction over cases where the punishment imposed is life imprisonment.

Judicial Workload: Filings in Missouri's Supreme Court increased by 2 percent from the previous fiscal year. Supreme Court filings of appeals, writs, original proceedings and motions totaled 1,773. The number of appeals, writs and motions filed in the three districts of Missouri's Court of Appeals totaled 10,002, only the second year that filings in the Court of Appeals have exceeded 10,000.

For the first time cases filed in the circuit, juvenile, associate circuit and probate divisions of the Circuit Court exceeded 740,000. The rise in caseloads in the Circuit Court continues the trend over the past five years of increased filings. In addition, it is estimated that at least 650,000 cases were filed into municipal divisions presided over by municipal judges during the fiscal year.

Judicial Committees and Organizations: Through committees appointed by the Supreme Court, rules and procedures governing the judiciary are reviewed and evaluated continuously to improve Missouri's court system. During FY 1983 the State Judicial Records Committee, formerly the State Courts Data Processing Committee, was reestablished. The committee completed work revising criminal charge codes and making recommendations on rules of privacy and security. The committee also recommended rules on records retention and destruction and began review of civil natures of action codes.

The Circuit Court Budget Committee is responsible for the allocation of state funds throughout the Circuit Court. The committee evaluates requests for pay adjustments and additional employees based on the individual needs of the court and staffing guidelines that measure the relative workload of each court. This year some additional measures of clerical workload were used in developing the staffing guidelines, including information on child support payments and circuit division cases heard on assignment in the associate or probate divisions.

The Presiding Judges' Executive Committee was also reestablished during the year. The committee examines the role and responsibility of the presiding judge and plans the agenda for meetings of presiding judges as a whole.

The Judicial Education Committee recommends programs and policies for judicial education. In Fiscal Year 1983 the committee sponsored both the Missouri College for Trial Judges and a seminar for new judges. The Supreme Court Subcommittee to Recommend Prescribed Course of Instruction of Non-Lawyer Municipal Judges sponsored a certification course for non-lawyer municipal judges and is in the process of updating the certification course book.

The court committees on patterned instructions meet several times each year to discuss and recommend changes in instructions to be given to juries. These changes are necessitated by court rulings and new legislation.

All of these committees, whose members donate their time, provide invaluable assistance to the Court and to the improvement of the judicial system.

In addition to the committees, there are several associations whose work contributes to Missouri's Judiciary. The Missouri Association of Probate and Associate Circuit Judges was founded in 1915 and has conducted an annual meeting every year except in 1918. All circuit judges with probate jurisdiction, all associate circuit judges, and commissioners in probate divisions are eligible for membership. The Association conducts meetings and programs for the continuing education of members and works toward the enactment of legislation pertaining to matters of concern to probate and associate circuit divisions.

During the past fiscal year the Association held its annual meeting at Columbia, Missouri, consisting of a day and one-half of educational and business meetings, an annual banquet, and other social functions. In addition, during the year the Association communicated with its members, advising them of matters concerning pending legislation, and provided them with a digest of recent probate decisions.

The Missouri Association of Probate and Associate Division Clerks was organized in October, 1981. Membership is open to all probate and associate division clerks. The objectives of the Association are threefold: 1) to promote the welfare and mutual interests of members; 2) to provide continuing education of members; and 3) to promote legislation of concern to clerks to better serve the people of the State of Missouri.

The annual meeting of the Association is held in the fall of each year. The 1982 meeting was held in Columbia, Missouri, in November. Topics of concern to clerks were discussed in the day long meeting.

The Missouri Shorthand Reporters Association, organized in 1944, is a professional association of more than 300 members. Its membership includes federal and state official reporters, freelance reporters, state agency reporters, and court reporting students.

The purpose of the Association is to encourage, establish and maintain the highest standards of professional efficiency, service, and ethics; and to advance the interests and general welfare of the shorthand reporting profession in any proper and legal way so as to attract and hold educated and talented men and women of good character.

In September 1982 the Association held its annual convention and seminar. An educational seminar was also held for students of court reporting. The Association offers films and lectures to law schools in the state to acquaint their students with the process of making a good record of trial proceedings.

The Missouri Circuit Clerks Association held its annual meeting in Cape Girardeau, Missouri, in November. Eighty circuit clerks and ex-officio recorders including 17 newly elected clerks attended the three day meeting. New legislation, jury fees, and benefits for county funded employees were the major topics of discussion.

The Judicial Finance Commission held its first hearings in Fiscal Year 1983. The Commission, composed of seven members, is responsible for reviewing the Circuit Court county budget requests when the county governing body petitions the Commission for review. During the year the Commission resolved three budget disputes. Two were resolved through a settlement conference and the third was resolved through a hearing by the Commission.

Financial Review: During Fiscal Year 1983 expenditures to operate the Missouri Judicial Branch were approximately $46.7 million. Judicial expenditures make up 2.2 percent of the over $2 billion expended from general revenue for the operation of state government.

About three-quarters of the funds expended in the judiciary was used for the operation of the Circuit Court System. The Supreme Court, the three districts of the Court of Appeals, the State Courts Administrator's Office, the Appellate Judicial Commission and the Commission on Retirement, Removal and Discipline combined to make up 16 percent of the expenditures. The remaining 10 percent was used to fund the Public Defender Program.

Services to the Judiciary: Through assignment of cases by the presiding judge and through judicial transfers ordered by the Supreme Court, caseloads are more equally distributed and cases are heard on a more timely basis. In addition, the judicial transfer allows for a judge who is disqualified on his own motion or on the motion of one of the parties to the suit to be replaced. During FY 1983 approximately 1,500 Supreme Court transfer orders were prepared for circuit and associate circuit cases.

The Central Transcribing Service provides typewritten transcripts upon formal request for cases heard using electronic sound recording. Two hundred and eleven transcripts were prepared by the Central Transcribing Service which accounted for an estimated 34,201 pages of prepared transcripts. Two hundred and six were appeals (98 percent). Of those, 169 were civil appeals and 37 were criminal appeals. The remainder were guilty pleas, sentencing or special requests. Requests for transcripts increased from 32,717 pages in FY 1982 to 37,510 pages in FY 1983.

With the advent of mini-computers and micro-computers many local courts have begun to rely on automated systems to handle increasing workloads. A survey completed during the year showed that more than 15 counties currently have automated systems or are in the process of automating. Systems in operation include child support, case records, accounting, court dockets and jury selection.

To assist in caseload management 26 circuit judges and circuit clerks received civil and criminal pending dockets either monthly or quarterly. The reports are generated through the Statewide Judicial Information System and include individual case histories. In addition to the courts that receive the reports on a regular basis, courts may receive the dockets and case histories along with other statistical reports upon request. During the fiscal year a total of 194 dockets and case histories were distributed in addition to those sent out on a regular basis.

Implementation of the automated Statewide Appellate Record Keeping System was completed during Fiscal Year 1983. The Supreme Court and the Eastern and Southern District systems all became operational during the year, joining the Western District Court of Appeals which became fully operational in 1981.

During Fiscal Year 1983 a substantial amount of progress was made on the development of a Probate Clerks Handbook. The handbook is being prepared by the Probate Clerk Handbook Committee and is a step-by-step manual covering probate procedures and record keeping. Copies of the handbook will be distributed to probate courts across the state.

Through a microfilming program administered by the Office of State Courts Administrator approximately 1,144,000 court documents were placed on microfilm during the year. There were 15 courts that took advantage of 11 rotary and 2 planetary cameras. The cameras are loaned to the courts on a rotating basis and are available upon request. A film processing service is provided through the Office of the Secretary of State in conjunction with the microfilming program. There are also many courts who do their own microfilming of court documents.

Judicial Training: A total of 1,077 judges and clerks attended in-state judicial training programs throughout the year. This represents a 48 percent increase over the number of attendees in the previous fiscal year.

The Missouri Supreme Court sponsors a variety of training seminars to provide judicial personnel with the expertise necessary in a modern court environment. The Missouri College for Trial Judges offered 92 circuit and associate circuit judges the opportunity to learn of the recent developments in civil and criminal law. The course also covered such topics as executions and garnishments, evidence, civil and criminal instructions, and domestic relations.

A new judges' seminar was held to assist judges in the transition from the bar to the bench. Several experienced judges gave presentations on conducting a trial, judicial ethics, docket and judgment entries, sentencing alternatives and the administrative responsibilities of a judge. The 38 new judges that attended the three day seminar toured the Missouri State Penitentiary as part of the training program.

A total of ten regional clerk training seminars were conducted statewide. The seminars were designed to update clerks on new legislation affecting the courts as well as provide information on financial procedures, executions and garnishments, and probate matters. New records retention and destruction procedures and procedures for handling the new uniform traffic tickets were also discussed. A record 556 clerks attended regional clerk training in Fiscal Year 1983.

A separate seminar for new circuit clerks provided information on circuit court record keeping, resource materials, costs and fees and the Circuit Court personnel system. Four small claims seminars were held to help clerks with their statutory obligation to assist potential litigants.

Other training provided during the fiscal year included a certification course for Missouri's non-lawyer municipal judges, a seminar on reporting caseload information and a seminar on the operation of sound recording equipment.

STATISTICAL SUMMARY

STATISTICAL SUMMARY

In FY 1983 Missouri's Judiciary continued to experience increased caseload activity. Supreme Court filings were the highest ever recorded, totaling 1,773. In the Court of Appeals, filing of appeals, writs and motions totaled 10,002, the second year that filings have exceeded 10,000.

In the Circuit Court there were 741,838 cases filed. These filings included 108,667 circuit division civil and criminal cases, 20,451 juvenile division cases, 598,637 associate division cases and 14,083 probate division cases. The Circuit Court increased the number of cases disposed from the previous fiscal year by 17,038 cases for a total in FY 1983 of 716,812 dispositions.

The statistics provided in this section were made possible by reports submitted by the clerks of Missouri's courts.

SUPREME COURT STATISTICAL SUMMARY

FY 1983 was a busy year for the Supreme Court. Nearly 150 appeals were filed and the Court disposed more than 330 cases, most by opinion. During the year a change in jurisdiction resulted in more than 90 criminal cases being transferred to the Court of Appeals. Excluding these from the total dispositions, the number disposed was still the largest in the last seven years.

Writ filings and dispositions were the highest since FY 1978 and the 513 original proceedings was the largest number filed in at least the past four years. In addition, filings and dispositions of motions reached all time highs during the year.

APPEALS

Filings: There were 147 appeals filed in the Supreme Court. Of these, 101 were civil filings and 46 were criminal filings. Overall, the number of filings declined this fiscal year (down 84 filings or 36 percent from FY 1982), with most of the decrease occurring in the criminal area. Much of this was the result of an amendment to the State Constitution which removed from the Supreme Court the exclusive jurisdiction over cases where the defendant was sentenced to life imprisonment. The number of civil appeals filed was down slightly from the 115 civil filings last year in the Supreme Court.

Dispositions: The Court disposed 148 civil and 184 criminal cases for a total of 332 cases disposed. This is 116 dispositions or 54 percent more than in FY 1982 and the largest number disposed by the Court in the last eight years.

FY 1983 was also the first year that the criminal dispositions, accounting for 55 percent of the total, outnumbered civil ones. The large increase in the criminal area (72 percent) was the result of the shift in jurisdiction referenced above. In the civil area, appeal dispositions increased 36 percent (39 cases) from FY 1982 to FY 1983.

NOTE: The category of appeal dispositions includes appeals filed directly in the Court, recommendations and applications for transfer that were sustained, certifications from the Court of Appeals, and petitions for writs that were sustained and submitted to the Supreme Court for decision.

Manner of Disposition: Sixty-five percent or 216 of the 332 cases disposed were by opinion, a 30 percent increase over the number of cases disposed by opinion in FY 1982. Dispositions by transfer accounted for 31 percent of all cases disposed, and dispositions by dismissal or order accounted for 4 percent of the total.

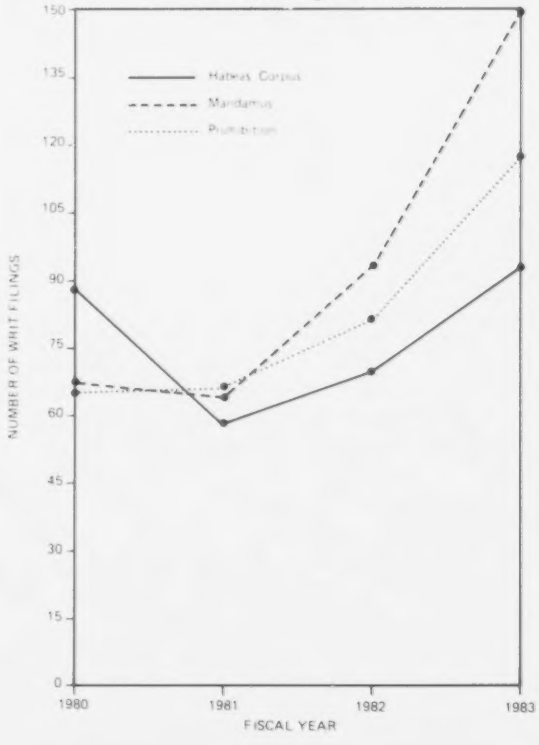
Figure 5
SUPREME COURT
WRIT FILINGS BY TYPE OF WRIT
FY 1980 through Fy 1983



The number of civil cases disposed by opinion increased 88 percent, from 66 in FY 1982 to 124 in FY 1983; 84 percent of all civil cases were disposed by opinion, compared to 61 percent in this category in FY 1982. Seven civil cases were dismissed, compared to 21 in FY 1982 and 11 cases were transferred, compared to 17 in FY 1982.

Half (92) of the criminal cases disposed were by opinion and the other half were transferred. As in the past, dispositions by order accounted for only a small portion of the total. Only six civil cases were disposed by order and no criminal cases were disposed in this manner.

WRITS

Filings: There were 401 petitions for writs filed in the state's highest court, 21 percent (70) more than were filed last year and the largest number of writs filed since FY 1978. Increases occurred in most of the writ categories.

A total of 149 writs of mandamus were filed, accounting for more than one-third (37 percent) of the writs filed. This percentage is significantly larger than in the last two fiscal years. In FY 1981 and FY 1982 writs of mandamus accounted for 25 percent and 28 percent of the total respectively.

This year 117 writs of prohibition and 94 writs of habeas corpus were filed in the Supreme Court, accounting for 29 percent and 23 percent of the total respectively. The proportion of total writs filed in these categories has not changed greatly over the past three years.

Disposition: The Court disposed 409 petitions for writs, an increase of 29 percent over the number disposed last year. The Court disposed larger numbers in most categories, with the greatest increase occurring with writs of mandamus. Of the writs disposed, 158 (39 percent) were writs of mandamus; 117 (29 percent) were writs of prohibition; 102 (25 percent) were writs of habeas corpus; two (less than 1 percent) were writs of quo warranto; and 30 (7 percent) were other writs.

Manner of Disposition: The Court denied 372 or approximately nine of every ten petitions for writs it considered. Of the major categories—mandamus, prohibition, habeas corpus and other—writs of prohibition had the smallest denial rate (79 percent). Among the others, the percent denied ranged from 94 percent to 100 percent.

The numbers of writs sustained, dismissed or disposed through other means were comparable to the numbers disposed in FY 1982. Twenty-seven petitions for writs were sustained, five writs were dismissed and five were withdrawn, quashed or transferred.

ORIGINAL PROCEEDINGS

This year 513 original proceedings were filed in the Supreme Court, slightly more than the number filed last fiscal year. Of these filings, 466 were applications to transfer filed from the Court of Appeals; 22 were recommendations and certifications from the Court of Appeals; and 25 were miscellaneous proceedings comprised of five disbarment actions; seven applications for reinstatement made by attorneys who were declared incompetent or alleged to be incapacitated; one recommendation made by the Commission on Retirement, Removal and Discipline of Judges; and twelve other matters.

The Supreme Court disposed 497 applications to transfer, denying 92 percent of these. The Court considered two recommendations, denying one and sustaining the other. Certifications are accepted without ruling and the number disposed is included in the appeals section.

The Court disposed a total of 24 miscellaneous proceedings, sustaining 20 and denying three. One matter was disposed by dismissal.

MOTIONS

During the 1983 fiscal year, 102 motions for rehearing or transfer and 610 other motions were filed in the Supreme Court. During the past five years total motion filings have

COURT OF APPEALS STATISTICAL SUMMARY

Nearly every facet of the Court of Appeals workload increased in FY 1983. Appeals filings and dispositions were at all-time highs and writ filings and dispositions increased approximately 10 percent over the previous year's levels. In addition, the number of transcripts and appellants' and respondents' briefs filed as well as the number of cases submitted to the Court for disposition all increased over the number filed and submitted the previous fiscal year.

The Court of Appeals disposed 97 percent of the number of appeals and writs filed this year, achieving a .97 disposition to filing ratio. This marked the second straight year that the disposition to filing ratio for appeals and writs has increased. Last year this ratio was .94 and in FY 1981 it was .92

The pending caseload for appeals and writs increased very slightly (3 percent or 80 cases) during the year with much of the increase occurring among criminal appeals.

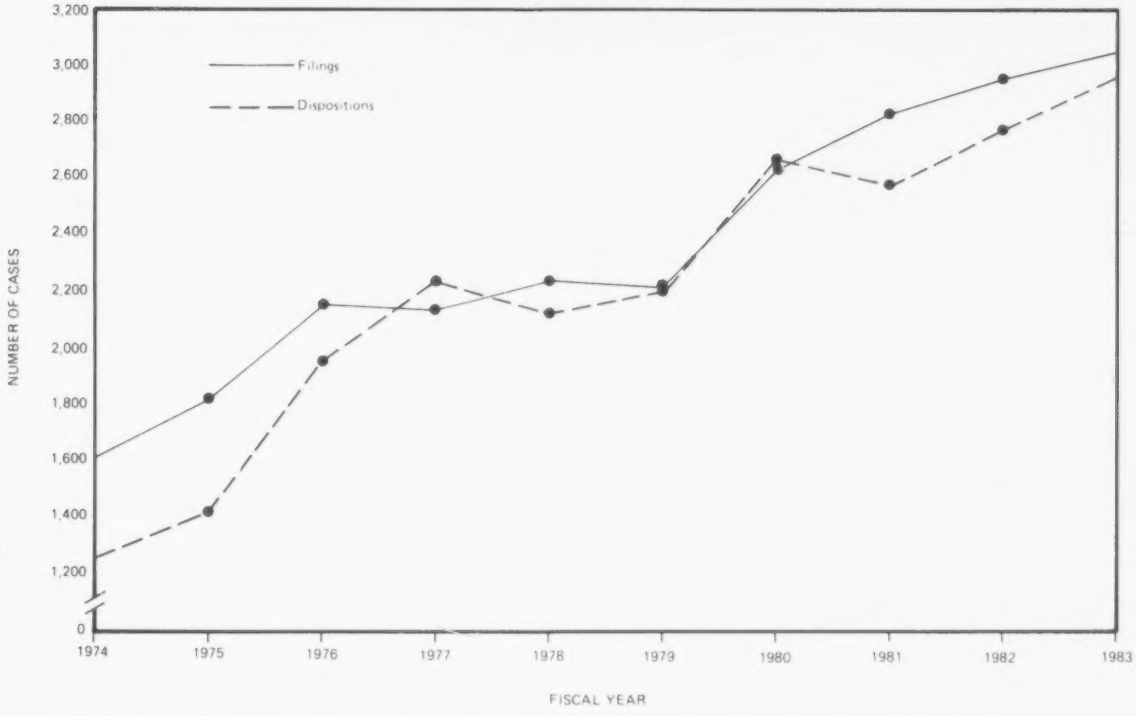
COURT OF APPEALS
TEN-YEAR WORKLOAD SUMMARY: APPEALS AND WRITS
FY 1974 through FY 1983



Motion activity was the only major category to decline, with 6 percent (405) fewer filings and 9 percent (640) fewer dispositions than in FY 1982.

APPEALS

Filings: A total of 2,606 appeals were filed in the Court of Appeals in FY 1983, the largest number of appeals ever filed in a single fiscal year in Missouri's intermediate appellate court. Seventy percent (1,824) of the appeals filed were civil matters and 30 percent (782) were criminal in nature. From FY 1982 to FY 1983 there was a 2 percent (55) growth in filings; civil filings during this period increased 1 percent (10) and criminal filings rose 6 percent (45).

Filings in the Court of Appeals have grown steadily since FY 1979. It was during FY 1979 that a revision to Article V expanded the Supreme Court's role in certain criminal cases and reduced the number of criminal cases filed in the Court of Appeals. The most recent change, which went into effect halfway through the 1983 fiscal year, increased the jurisdiction of the Court of Appeals in the criminal area. The impact of this change began to be felt in FY 1983 and will result in more criminal appeals being filed in this court in the future.

Dispositions: The Court of Appeals disposed a record 2,544 appeals during the year ending June 30, 1983—6 percent (154) more than in the previous fiscal year. On the average there were almost 80 appeal dispositions per judge, up from the average of 73 appeal dispositions per judge in FY 1981 and 77 appeal dispositions per judge in FY 1982. (Appeals are ordinarily disposed by divisions of the Court, but looking at the average disposition per judge provides a measure of the rate of dispositions as compared to previous years when the number of judges differed.)

The Court of Appeals disposed 715 criminal and 1,829 civil cases which are all time highs in both categories. Civil dispositions increased 5 percent (88) and criminal dispositions increased 10 percent (66) over the previous year's totals. In the past two years criminal dispositions have increased 27 percent (152) and civil dispositions have grown 12 percent (202).

Manner of Disposition: In the last ten years the Court of Appeals has consistently disposed at least half of the appeals it considered by opinion and FY 1983 was no exception. This year 1,362 civil and criminal appeals, 54 percent of the total, were disposed by opinion, the largest number of appeals disposed by opinion to date. Just over three-fourths (546) of the criminal appeals and 45 percent (816) of the civil appeals were disposed in this manner. Traditionally a larger share of the criminal appeals has been disposed by opinion, with percentages over the last ten years ranging from 69 percent to 84 percent. In the civil area, the percent disposed by opinion ranged from 43 percent to 53 percent.

Dismissals accounted for one-third (849) of the appeal dispositions, with 20 percent (140) of the criminal cases and 39 percent (709) of the civil cases being dismissed. The remaining 13 percent (333) of the cases were consolidated, transferred or disposed through other means, including by order, by judgment on the pleadings and by withdrawal or denial of the petition. A total of 29 (4 percent) of the criminal appeals were disposed through these manners of disposition and 304 (17 percent) of the civil appeals were consolidated, transferred or disposed through other means.

WRITS

Filings: A total of 456 writs were filed in the Court of Appeals in FY 1983, just 10 short of the record 466 writs filed in FY 1980. The number of writs filed increased 10 percent (43) over the previous year's filings, with the largest change occurring in writs of prohibition, which allege that lower courts or tribunals are exceeding their jurisdiction. In FY 1983, 284 writs of prohibition were filed, 39 (16 percent) more than in FY 1982. There were also 58 writs of habeas corpus, to determine whether or not a person is being held illegally, and 114 writs of mandamus, which command that a particular act or duty be performed. Filings in these two categories are comparable to the 61 writs of habeas corpus and 103 writs of mandamus filed last year.

*For most of the year there were only 31 Court of Appeals judges. That number rose to 32 in April 1982.

In FY 1982 it was projected that based on trends of the past nine years, an estimated 440 writs would be filed in the Court of Appeals in FY 1983. The number actually filed surpassed this estimate by 16 writs. It is reasonable to expect that 470 writ filings, projected for FY 1984, will occur.

Dispositions: The Court of Appeals disposed 438 petitions for writs during the year, a 9 percent (36) increase over the writs disposed in FY 1982. Eighty-five percent (371) of these were denied. Another 8 percent (33) of the writs were disposed by order and 6 percent (28) were disposed by opinion.

MOTIONS

A total of 6,940 motions were filed in the Court of Appeals this year. While two of the three districts had more motions filed this year than in FY 1982, the total was 6 percent or 405 fewer than in FY 1982. There were 6,721 motions disposed this fiscal year—9 percent (640) fewer than last year's total.

PENDING

The number of pending cases in the Court of Appeals increased 3 percent (80 cases) from the beginning to the end of the fiscal year. The Court reported that on July 1, 1982, there were 2,559 appeals and 10 petitions for writs pending. By June 30, 1983, these numbers had risen to 2,621 and 28 respectively. In the civil area, the number of pending appeals declined slightly from 1,717 to 1,712, while pending civil writ petitions increased from 8 to 22. During the same period, the number of pending criminal appeals grew 8 percent (67 appeals), from 842 to 909 and the number of criminal writs pending increased from 2 to 6.

Of the appeals that were pending on June 30, 1983, 899 (34 percent) had transcripts due, 497 (19 percent) had appellants' briefs due, 345 (13 percent) had respondents' briefs due, 386 (15 percent) were ready for submission and 494 (19 percent) were under submission to the Court.

The status of pending appeals is dependent on a number of interim transactions. When compared with the number of transactions in FY 1982, there were significant increases. In FY 1983, there were 1,653 transcripts filed, 9 percent (140) more than the 1,513 filed previously. There were 1,667 appellants' briefs and 1,607 respondents' briefs

CIRCUIT COURT STATISTICAL SUMMARY

A total of 741,838 cases were filed in all divisions of Missouri's Circuit Court, surpassing last year's total by 2,094 cases (0.3 percent). Approximately 8 of every 10 cases filed were associate division matters. There were 598,637 such cases filed in FY 1983; up 1,792 or 0.3 percent from last year's total. The greatest changes were in the number of misdemeanor/infraction and municipal filings. The number of misdemeanor/infraction filings increased nearly 14,000 (33 percent), offsetting a decline of nearly 13,000 (3 percent) in the traffic area. The number of municipal cases filed directly in the associate division courts increased by 8,842 (32 percent).

Fifteen percent of the filings in the Circuit Court were circuit division matters. A total of 108,667 circuit division cases were filed this year, down about 3 percent from the number of filings in FY 1982. There were 85,688 civil cases filed, 4 percent (3,175 cases) fewer than in the 1982 fiscal year; 22,979 criminal cases were also filed, up 1 percent (311 cases) from the previous year's total.

Juvenile and probate filings each contributed about 2 percent to the total filings. There were 20,451 juvenile filings this year, the second largest number of juvenile filings on record. Total probate filings increased 3 percent (386 cases) from 13,697 in FY 1982 to 14,083 this year. Increases in decedents' and incompetents' estates account for most of the growth.

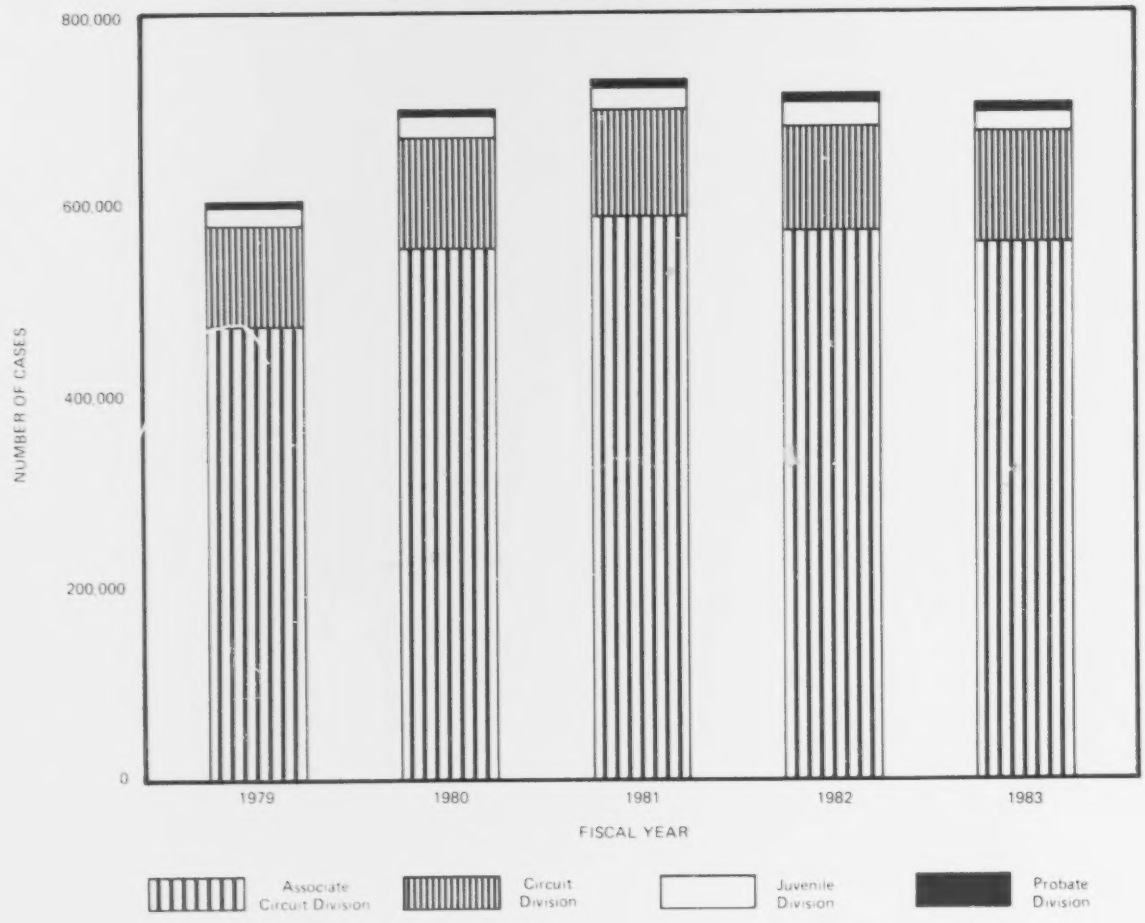
CIRCUIT COURT, FILINGS BY DIVISION
FY 1979 through FY 1983



NOTE: Excludes Municipal Cases.

The Circuit Court disposed 716,812 cases during the 1983 fiscal year, 17,087 more cases than were disposed in FY 1982. With the exception of the probate division, where dispositions this year were consistent with last year, all divisions disposed more cases in FY 1983 than in FY 1982. The largest percent increase occurred in the juvenile division. Juvenile dispositions between the last two years increased 13 percent, from 18,087 to 20,520. Dispositions in the circuit and associate divisions both grew about 2 percent with circuit division dispositions totaling 107,738 and associate division dispositions totaling 575,219. The probate division disposed 13,335 cases.

More detailed discussions of each division follow.

CIRCUIT DIVISION

Filings: Filings in the circuit division of Missouri's Circuit Court totaled 108,667, a figure which is 2.6 percent (2,864) smaller than the number filed in FY 1982. Of the cases filed, 85,688 were civil matters and 22,979 were criminal ones. A decline in the civil area, where there were 3,175 or 4 percent fewer civil filings in FY 1983 than in FY 1982, accounts for the overall decrease in filings. Criminal filings on the other hand increased by 311 cases or 1.4 percent from FY 1982 to FY 1983. While civil filings may be leveling off, the number of criminal cases continues to grow.

Dispositions: The circuit division disposed 107,738 cases, 2 percent (2,096) more than in FY 1982 and nearly equal to the record

107,928 circuit division cases disposed in FY 1981. While civil filings decreased, the number of civil dispositions was up by 2 percent (1,864) to 85,709 dispositions. There was also a slight increase in the criminal area, where statewide dispositions totaled 22,029—232 more dispositions than in FY 1982.

Overall the circuit division disposed 99 percent of the number of cases that were filed this year, achieving a disposition to filing ratio of .99. This is a notable improvement over the already high .95 ratio in FY 1982. In the civil area the disposition to filing ratio was 1.00 indicating that the number of filings and dispositions were virtually equal. In the previous fiscal year the courts disposed 94 percent of the number of civil cases that were filed. The FY 1983 disposition to filing ratio for the criminal cases was .96 which is consistent with the ratio for criminal cases achieved in FY 1982.

The average number of civil and criminal case dispositions per circuit judge rose in FY 1983 despite the addition of another circuit judgeship halfway through the fiscal year. There was an average of 691 civil and 178 criminal dispositions per circuit judge for a total average of 869 case dispositions per circuit judge. This is 10 higher than the average for FY 1982.

Pending Caseload: Overall the number of pending cases rose by only 0.8 percent (929) in FY 1983. The circuit division began the year with 112,637 cases pending and this figure stood at 113,566 by the end of the year. The number of civil pending cases actually dropped slightly, from 98,136 to 98,115, but the number of pending criminal cases grew nearly 7 percent during the period, from 14,501 to 15,451, an increase of 950 cases.

CIVIL DISPOSITIONS

In most of the civil cases that were disposed, a judge rather than a jury heard the case and rendered a decision. This type of disposition is known as a trial by court or court trial. There were significantly more cases disposed by a court trial this year than last. In FY 1983, 61 percent of the civil cases were disposed by a court trial, compared to 54 percent in FY 1982. In addition the 51,877 civil cases disposed by a court trial this year is 14 percent (6,413) more than the number disposed by a court trial in FY 1982. In the individual circuits, the percent of civil cases disposed by court trial this year ranged from a low of 36 percent to a high of 81 percent.

Percentages attributed to the other manners of disposition were consistent with those reported last year. Over one-third (35 percent or 29,800) of the case dispositions were by dismissal. The courts disposed 1 percent (1,112) of the cases through jury trials while under 1 percent (479) were disposed through a change of venue and 3 percent (2,441) were disposed through other means including consolidations, severances and removals to federal court.

Sixty-two percent or nearly 53,000 of the civil cases disposed were domestic relations matters. Of these almost two-thirds (63 percent) were dissolution cases. The number of domestic relations case dispositions this year was down 4 percent from the previous year's total of 55,421, but the decline in this area was offset by a 15 percent (4,333) increase in the disposition of equity and other circuit civil cases. A total of 6,050 equity and 26,707 other civil cases were disposed by the courts.

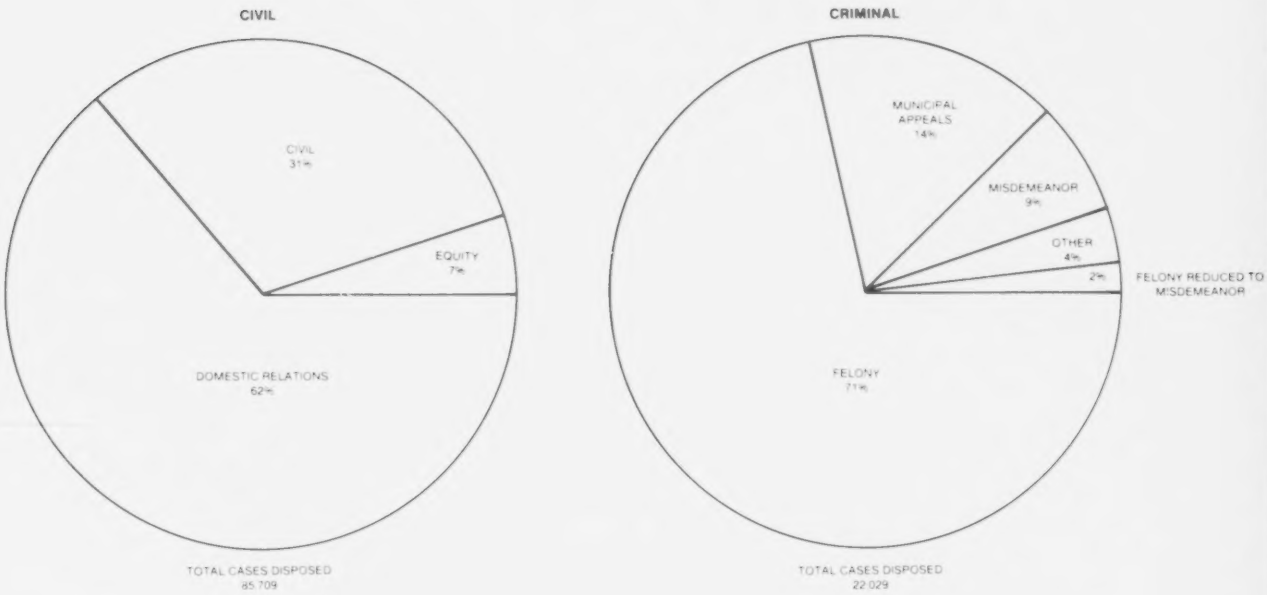
CIRCUIT DIVISION, DISPOSITIONS BY CLASS OF CASE FY 1983



CRIMINAL DISPOSITIONS

Fifty-five percent (12,274) of the criminal cases disposed were the result of a guilty plea. This percentage is consistent with percentages reported by the courts for the past several years as are the percentages for the other manners of disposition. In the individual circuits, the percentage of criminal cases disposed by a guilty plea ranged from a low of 3 percent to a high of 81 percent. The courts disposed 19 percent (4,133) of the criminal cases by trial including 5 percent (1,002) by a jury trial and 14 percent (3,131) by a court trial. Eleven percent (2,478) of the cases were nolle prossed, 8 percent (1,766) were dismissed, 4 percent (780) were disposed through a change of venue and 2 percent (598) were disposed through other means including consolidations and severances.

Statewide, 16,117 cases filed as felonies were disposed in the circuit division. This represents 73 percent of all criminal dispositions. In at least 476 of these cases a guilty plea was accepted and the charge was reduced to a misdemeanor. During the same period 1,875 misdemeanors and 3,113 municipal appeals (quasi-criminal) were disposed, representing 9 percent and 14 percent of the total respectively. The remaining 4 percent (924) of the cases disposed were miscellaneous matters.

Cases on Assignment

Circuit divisions throughout the state reported that associate circuit judges disposed about 25,300 circuit division cases this fiscal year. Of these approximately 22,500 were civil cases and 2,800 were criminal cases. The 22,500 cases is roughly one-fourth of all civil dispositions and the 2,800 is just under 13 percent of the total criminal dispositions.

Up to 75 percent of the circuit division civil cases disposed in an individual circuit were disposed by associate circuit judges. In the criminal area, the percentages disposed by associate circuit judges in each circuit ranged from under 1 percent to nearly 60 percent of the total. Such percentages indicate that the associate circuit judges are handling a significant share of the circuit division caseload.

Crime Victims' Compensation Act Judgments

When a defendant receives a sentence of imprisonment or is placed under the supervision of the State Board of Probation and Parole the court enters a judgment of 26 dollars to be paid by the defendant to finance the Crime Victims' Compensation Fund. Statewide 24,292 Crime Victims' Compensation Act Judgments were entered during the fiscal year. Of those judgments 13,960 occurred in the circuit division and 10,332 were at the associate circuit level.

CIRCUIT DIVISION, DISPOSITIONS PER JUDGE

Child Support

Missouri's Circuit Court processed almost one-half million child support payments during Fiscal Year 1983. Of the 495,900 payments processed by the Court 215,042 (43 percent) were Title IV-D related. At the end of the fiscal year there were a total of 75,061 child support open accounts of which 40,911 (55 percent) were Title IV-D related.

JUVENILE DIVISION

For the second year in a row the number of juvenile case filings increased from the previous fiscal year. There were 20,451 filings in FY 1983 which is a 16 percent increase over the 17,671 juvenile cases filed in FY 1982. Filings include both new filings and supplementary filings that occurred during the year. The increase in filings represents the largest yearly increase in juvenile filings in four years.

Missouri's Circuit Court disposed of more juvenile cases in FY 1983 than in any previous year. Dispositions climbed to 20,520 from 18,087 in FY 1982 (a 13 percent increase). For the second straight year juvenile dispositions exceeded filings for a disposition to filing ratio of slightly over 1 disposition for each case filed.

Due to the increased dispositions the number of pending juvenile cases decreased to fewer than 8,000, the smallest number of pending juvenile cases in over 10 years. There were 8,062 pending cases at the beginning of the fiscal year falling to 7,993 by the end of the year, a decrease of 1 percent.

For the first time the number of juvenile allegations and the manner of case dispositions are available for an entire fiscal year. Thirty-nine percent of the allegations were violations of state law or municipal ordinances, 26 percent were child abuse or neglect, 15 percent were status offenses (offenses that apply to juveniles only and would not be an offense if committed by an adult), 15 percent were adoptions and 5 percent were terminations of parental rights.

Of the 20,520 juvenile dispositions that occurred during FY 1983, 47 percent were disposed through uncontested hearings, 19 percent were dismissed without a hearing, 12 percent were disposed through contested hearings, 12 percent were disposed through adoption hearings, 5 percent were transferred to other jurisdictions, 4 percent were disposed through a termination of parental rights, while one percent of the dispositions were the result of certification to adult court.

ASSOCIATE CIRCUIT DIVISION

There were 598,637 cases filed into Missouri's associate circuit division during FY 1983. The division disposed of 575,219 cases during the year—96 percent of the number of cases filed. Cases filed into the associate circuit division include civil actions involving a controversy of $5,000 or less, small claims, felony complaints, misdemeanors and infractions, state traffic violations and certain municipal traffic and ordinance violations.

Filings: Of the 598,637 cases filed, 108,533 were civil in nature. The civil caseload was comprised of 18,663 small claims filings involving an amount of $1,000 or less while the remaining 89,870 civil actions in the associate circuit division involved a controversy that did not exceed $5,000.

Small claims filings increased by 10 percent over the number of filings in the previous fiscal year while other civil actions in the associate division decreased by 9 percent from the previous fiscal year. The increase in small claims filings and decrease in other civil filings could be explained in part by legislation enacted in 1982 that increases the dollar limit on the jurisdiction of the Small Claims Court from $500 to $1,000.

There were a total of 82,287 criminal cases filed (14 percent of all filings). Criminal filings included 26,080 felony case filings and 56,207 misdemeanor case filings. Traffic cases totaled 371,719 (62 percent of all filings) while 36,098 municipal cases, including county ordinance violations in St. Louis County, were filed directly into the associate circuit division. No data is collected on the number of cases filed in municipal divisions where the municipality elects to maintain its own municipal court.

There were 1,792 more filings in the associate division in FY 1983 than in the previous fiscal year (less than 1 percent increase). Civil case filings including small claims declined by 6 percent (6,814), felony filings increased by 2 percent (663), misdemeanor filings increased by 33 percent (13,829), traffic cases decreased by 3 percent (12,899) and municipal cases filed into associate divisions increased by 32 percent (8,842).

*Totals do not include municipal cases heard by associate division judges.

The increase in misdemeanor filings and decrease in traffic filings could be due primarily to a change in reporting definitions that became effective at the beginning of FY 1983. The new definitions placed some of the more serious case types previously classified as traffic cases into the misdemeanor category. Such cases include operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated, driving while drivers license is suspended or revoked, and obtaining a license by misrepresentation.

In the last five years, associate division filings (excluding municipal cases which have only been reported for the last two years) have increased 20 percent, from 469,148 in FY 1979 to 562,539 in FY 1983. During that period civil filings increased by 6 percent; small claims filings increased 40 percent; felony filings decreased 6 percent; misdemeanor filings increased 38 percent and traffic cases increased by 23 percent.

Dispositions: The associate circuit division disposed 575,219 cases or about 96 percent of the number of cases filed. Of the 99,355 civil cases disposed, 82,124 were civil actions filed under Chapter 517 and 17,231 were small claims cases. In the criminal area 25,978 felony cases were disposed at the associate circuit level and 49,969 misdemeanor cases were disposed during the fiscal year. The associate circuit division disposed 368,043 traffic cases which represents almost two-thirds of all cases disposed in the associate circuit division. There were 31,874 municipal cases disposed by the associate circuit division where the cases are filed directly into the associate division. Associate circuit judges may have disposed of more municipal cases than are reported since no data is available on the number of cases filed directly into municipal divisions.

The number of associate circuit division dispositions increased by 12,690 cases (2 percent) from the previous fiscal year. Small claims, felony, misdemeanor and municipal dispositions all increased from the previous fiscal year. Small claims dispositions increased 14 percent, felony dispositions increased 3 percent, misdemeanor dispositions increased 27 percent and municipal dispositions increased by 40 percent. Dispositions of civil cases decreased by 10 percent and traffic dispositions decreased by less than 1 percent.

Disposition to Filing Ratio: The disposition to filing ratio climbed from .94 in FY 1982 to .96 in FY 1983. This increase marked the fifth straight year the associate circuit division has improved its ratio of cases disposed compared to the number of cases filed.

Felony cases had the highest proportion of dispositions to filings at 1.00, an increase from .93 the previous fiscal year. The disposition to filing ratio also increased for small claims, traffic and municipal cases. During the same period the ratio for small claims cases increased from .89 to .91, traffic from .96 to .99 and municipal cases from .84 to .88. The disposition to filing ratio for civil cases decreased from .93 to .91 and the ratio for misdemeanors decreased from .93 to .89.

Pending Caseload: Pending cases rose from 244,091 cases at the start of FY 1983 to 267,509 cases at the end of the year, a 10 percent increase. Civil pending cases (excluding small claims) increased by 10 percent from 74,027 to 81,773. Small claims pending caseload increased 21 percent from 6,704 to 8,136. Felony pending caseload increased slightly from 17,193 to 17,295 (1 percent) while misdemeanor pending caseload increased by 19 percent from 32,176 to 38,414. Pending caseload for traffic cases rose by 4 percent from 96,498 to 100,174 and municipal pending cases increased from 17,493 to 21,717 an increase of 24 percent.

The pending to disposition ratio at the end of FY 1983 was .47 (an increase from .45 the previous fiscal year) which indicates that the number of pending cases at the end of the fiscal year was approximately 47 percent of the number of cases disposed for the year. This ratio suggests that if these pending cases were disposed without adding any other workload it could be expected to take 47 percent of the year (approximately 6 months) to dispose of all pending cases.

Manner of Disposition: During FY 1983 the associate circuit division disposed 575,219 cases. For civil and small claims cases there are five manners of disposition including certified to the circuit division, trial by the court, judgment without trial, dismissal without trial and change of venue. Statewide the number of court trials increased for both civil cases and small claims cases from the previous fiscal year. Civil court trials increased by 827 and small claims court trials increased by 1,496. The percentage breakdown of the manner of disposition for civil and small claims cases remained consistent from the previous fiscal year. About 56 percent (45,742) of the civil cases were disposed by a judgment without trial and 29 percent (23,707) were dismissed without a trial. There were 10,853 civil cases (13 percent) disposed by a trial by the court. For small claims cases the three most frequent manners of disposition were dismissal without a trial (5,696 or 33 percent), trial by the court (6,634 or 39 percent) and default judgments (4,493 or 26 percent). Change of venue and cases certified combined for 2 percent of the small claims dispositions.

In the associate circuit division about 41 percent (10,542) of the 25,978 felony dispositions were dismissed without a trial. Over one-third (10,671 or 41 percent) were bound over to the circuit division after a preliminary hearing was held or such hearing was waived by the defendant. In the associate circuit division a felony charge may also be reduced to a misdemeanor and a guilty plea accepted. This occurred in approximately 17 percent (4,478) of the felony cases disposed at the associate circuit division level. One percent of the dispositions were the result of a change of venue. The manners of disposition did not vary more than 2 percent from the previous fiscal year.

Associate circuit division misdemeanor cases may be disposed in a variety of manners which include cases certified to the circuit division, trial by court, cases handled by a traffic violations bureau, cases where a plea of guilty is entered in open court, guilty pleas other than those made in open court, cases dismissed without a trial, and by change of venue. Of the 49,969 misdemeanor cases disposed, 25,019 (49 percent) were disposed through a guilty plea in open court and another 5,829 (12 percent) were other guilty pleas. There were 4,000 (8 percent) misdemeanors tried by the court in the associate circuit division while about 12,837 (26 percent) were dismissed without a trial. The percentage of misdemeanor cases disposed by a guilty plea in open court increased significantly from the previous fiscal year rising from 40 percent in FY 1982 to 49 percent in FY 1983.

sociate circuit judges have the same categories of disposition as misdemeanor cases. Over two-thirds of the 399,967 traffic and municipal cases were disposed through guilty pleas. Fifteen percent were disposed through a traffic violations bureau and 9 percent were dismissed without a trial. The remaining 4 percent were disposed through trial by court, certification, or change of venue. Note that while this report covers all municipal cases filed directly into the associate circuit division, it does not include thousands of municipal cases heard by municipal judges in the municipalities.

PROBATE DIVISION

During FY 1983 there were 14,083 probate cases filed and 13,335 disposed. These included decedents' estates, incompetents' estates, minors' estates and mental health proceedings. As a result of increased filings the number of pending cases increased from 33,743 at the beginning of the year to 34,491 at the end of the year, an increase of 2 percent.

Sixty percent (8,445) of the 14,083 probate cases filed were decedents' estates. Decedents' estates may be filed under supervision of the court or they may be handled through independent administration. During the year there were 7,144 decedents' estates filed under supervised administration and 1,301 filed under independent administration. The 1,301 decedents' estates filed under independent administration is substantially larger than the 738 filed in FY 1982 while the number of decedents' estates under supervised administration declined slightly.

There were a total of 2,342 incompetents' estates opened which is 17 percent of the total probate caseload. A total of 1,770 of the incompetents' estates involved a guardianship of personal assets. Minors' estates accounted for 1,102 (8 percent) of probate filings of which 839 involved a guardianship of personal assets. There were 2,194 (16 percent) mental health proceedings filed including petitions for 21-day, 90-day or 1 year detention and treatment periods as provided under Missouri's statutes.

The probate division closed 11,153 estate cases and disposed 2,182 mental health proceedings for a total of 13,335 dispositions. Decedents' estates accounted for 8,656 (65 percent) probate dispositions, of which 7,851 were filed under supervised administration and 805 were filed under independent administration. During FY 1983, 1,494 (11 percent) incompetents' estates, 1,003 (8 percent) minors' estates, and 2,182 (16 percent) mental health proceedings were disposed.

The number of pending decedents' estates cases declined from 16,443 at the start of the year to 16,232 (1 percent) at the end of the year, the second straight year that decedents' estates pending cases have been reduced. Pending cases for incompetents' estates rose from 10,430 to 11,278 (8 percent); pending minors' estates rose slightly with 6,093 cases at the start of the year and 6,192 at the end of FY 1983 (less than a 2 percent increase). The number of pending mental health proceedings increased from 777 to 789 (2 percent).

Filings for all types of estate cases increased from the previous fiscal year. Decedents' estates filings increased from 8,227 cases in FY 1982 to 8,445 in FY 1983 (3 percent increase). Minors' estates filings increased from 1,099 in FY 1982 to 1,102 in FY 1983 (less than 1 percent) while incompetents' estates filings increased from 2,121 to 2,342 (a 10 percent increase).

Overall, dispositions for estate cases declined slightly from FY 1982; decedents' estates cases showed a decrease of less than 1 percent and minors' estates decreased by 11 percent. Incompetents' estates dispositions increased by 3 percent. In the last two years the number of small estates' affidavits has increased as a result of the increased dollar limit of small estates' affidavits from $5,000 to $15,000. In the three year period from FY 1981 to FY 1983 the number of small estates' affidavits has increased by 59 percent to a total of 2,786 affidavits this year.

In addition to caseload information, probate divisions reported the following abbreviated matters: 1,919 creditor refusals of letters; 4,204 mental health applications for 96 hour temporary detention and treatment; 2,786 small estates affidavits and 3,756 spouse or minor refusals of letters.

DETAILED STATISTICS

DETAILED STATISTICS

The following tables provide detailed caseload information not included in the statistical summary. Many of the tables include the percentage change in pending, disposition to filing ratio and pending to disposition ratio for each case type. An explanation of the percentage change in pending, disposition to filing ratio, and the pending to disposition ratio is provided below to make the tables easier to understand and use.

Percentage Change in Pending—provides an indication of the relative increase or decrease in pending caseload. A positive number indicates an increase in pending cases, zero indicates no change and a negative number means the pending caseload decreased during the year. The percentage change in pending is calculated by subtracting pending beginning caseload from the pending at the end and dividing the difference by the pending end.

Disposition to Filing Ratio—compares the number of cases disposed to the number of cases filed during the year to give an indication of how well the court is keeping pace with the workload. A ratio of 1.00 indicates that the court disposed of an equal number of cases as the number filed. A ratio of 0.50 indicates that the court was able to dispose half the number of cases that were filed. The disposition to filing ratio is calculated by dividing total dispositions by total filings.

Pending to Disposition Ratio—provides an indication of the size of the pending caseload relative to the court's rate of disposition. A pending to disposition ratio of 2.00 means that there are twice as many cases pending compared to the number of cases disposed during the year. The pending to disposition ratio is calculated by dividing the total number of cases pending by the number of cases disposed.

*The number rose to 124 in January, 1983 with the addition of a circuit judge in the 43rd judicial circuit.
Excludes the judge assigned to a separate probate division.

Note: For analysis purposes, Clinton County was counted in Circuit 43 and Douglas, Ozark and Wright Counties were counted in Circuit 44 for all three years. The changes did not actually become effective until January 1982.
